Khartoum.

IN THE SOUDAN.

The following instance of Leishmania donovani found by me at the Omdurman Civil Hospital is, I believe, the first case found in Africa except that occurring in Tunis on November 18th last, and reported by Dr. Laveran. The case was under the control of Dr. H. P. pherson, and it is by his kind permission that I am publishing this account. On March 19th 1903, a patient, who had been in the life-history of the bodies nor an amination. A gland was excised but nothing abnormal made.

You up for parasite tweeks? We like dog and some human

Julie Blommaert @Julie_B92
For absolutely no other reason than I really like cats, I like to see your cats tweeks. Dogs are good too. I just wanna see your pets
